

Bio - Heather Lyon

Heather Lyon is a former English teacher and has a Ph.D. in Educational Administration and an Ed.M. in Reading from the University at Buffalo. She is an Assistant Superintendent of Curriculum, Instruction, and Technology for Lewiston-Porter Central School District.

Heather has been a staff developer and held various administrative titles, but the professional title she likes best is learner. She is also a proud wife and mother who (struggles with) but values the importance of work/life balance—which is so critical in a profession like ours. Heather lives with her husband and three children, who make her smile and teach her the importance of kindness, respect, and patience.

Please follow Heather on Twitter @LyonsLetters and visit her website www.LyonsLetters.com.