

ONLINE MATH LEARNING

MORIAH BILINGUAL ACADEMY

IPDS HONDURAS

Sue McMillen, professor in Mathematics, is teaching 10th and 11th grade math to students at Moriah Bilingual Academy, an IPDS Honduras partner school. Schools in Honduras have been closed for four weeks, but Moriah has found creative ways to provide limited online instruction, even without an educational platform or classroom management system. The first week parents and teachers were innovative and used What's App to submit and grade their student work. They have since moved to using Zoom conferences and recordings and are having success.
